School		Date inspected	Report Published
Ysgol Gynradd Parc Y Bont	Llanddaniel Fab (105 pupils on roll)	01/07/2024	3/9/2024
Nearly all pupils are proud of their contribution to fundraising activities for purposeful humanitarian causes, for example by raising money to help the residents of Ukraine. This has a strong effect on most pupils' awareness of the needs of others in their community and the wider world and contributes well to their moral development. Staff provide appropriate collective worship sessions and opportunities for pupils to reflect on manners and how to take care of each other in an inclusive society. Opportunities for pupils to develop robust values and explore beliefs are beneficial; for example, Year 1 and 2 pupils create an animation telling the story of the Nativity and research the traditions of the Diwali festival. Across the school, staff take advantage of purposeful opportunities to invite visitors, including parents, to talk to pupils about their lives, their religions and their heritage.

Beneficial opportunities are provided for pupils to reflect on important spiritual and moral values, including the need to respect everyone in society and be a good friend to others. This is effective in ensuring that nearly all pupils have a sound understanding of the important principles that they need to be intelligent and informed citizens.
Ysgol David Hughes (Secondary)	Menai Bridge (1132 pupils on roll)	03/02/2025	07/04/2025
Pupils' views have a strong influence on school life, with an active school council that works with senior leaders to address issues such as bullying. A digital reporting system has increased pupils' confidence in reporting problems and the school council's website provides useful information for parents and the community. Thematic groups contribute positively to the school's ethos. These include the UNICEF group which promotes equality, and the Welshness group which celebrates Welsh culture through activities in the local community. The UNICEF group is passionate about promoting diversity and equality within the school, as seen in its work on anti-racism. The school offers a balanced curriculum that provides pupils with rich learning opportunities. More able pupils succeed in drawing intelligent conclusions based on reading passages, such as when analysing Jewish responses to the Shoah crisis in religious education.

The health and well-being lessons, 'Llun Lles' morning sessions and assemblies support and enrich pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development. They include important themes such as how to build resilience, mental health awareness, stress and sex education.

Departments also promote pupils' opinions and respond to their comments effectively when adapting teaching and learning methods. For example, the religious studies department has changed its methods of checking understanding to use small whiteboards as a result of feedback from pupils.
